Thanks for reading!
The video should be available in early fall.
Here, some members of the gospel choir from 360 degrees. It's part of a TryTank experiment, of course.

Fundamentals

6. From Lifelong Learning: Formation

If you are interested through social media and great appreciation from our parish. Not only do producing video and audio programming that has received wide attention it, want to use it for your church, or think the idea is interesting.

if anyone is interested in video or audio productions, whether you create

Our thought bubble:

things are at a "somewhat, are-they-really, look-out-for-the-next-variant,

FL

🍿

5. Are you a content producer? Meet new

the Episcopal SING cohort early in the fall."

What's next:

God moves in, through, and with creation."

ministries have been expressing interest in the opportunity to join the eco-theology experiment. Episcopal congregations, seminaries, and partner in this experiment, to update us. Here's his note:

We asked Payton Hoegh, from Episcopal Church in Bay View, OH

"The Power of Community Partnerships

over 20 congregations are currently collaborating to share

Church Shock

Christian faith for the first time or the first time after a significant congregations focused on the 4Cs of the program. Next, we're producing more success.

Webinar #1 on June 2:

Offer a quiet prayer time (maybe a labyrinth walk) after the next your church has great acoustics, and you may gain a choir member.

relationships).

Ask for Father's Day (etc.) prayers, include them in your service,

Keep up with

Webinars that will show you—step-by-step—how to supercharge your opportunities

in the pandemic disruption.

exception was Worship and Spirituality, for which a bare majority of response micro surveys.

Here's an update from the Rev. Ken Howard, experiment manager for

Go deeper:

invite people to your church to start a relationship.

This is our last newsletter until the fall. Like many of you, we're taking Hi friends!

pages)

Jemar Tisby,

Maria Harris,

pages)

Anyone interested in learning more

them

Jemar Tisby,

Maria Harris,

Jemar Tisby,

Maria Harris,

pages)

This email was sent by TryTank via