Hi friends!

- It's not too late for Prayer School
- There will be one more YouTube video released (more details on this soon)
- Many of our congregations had their first opportunity to see results this week
- Go deeper:
  - Here it is, unedited (CPS is Child Protective Services):
  - Big picture:
    - The Web3 Abbey team hosted the service in a specially designed tripod for the metaverse, to tell you all how it went at the first ever Episcopal worship event in the metaverse. Here's his note:
      - The pandemic paused the tour and the experiment for two years.
      - The tour stops were to have a concert and a masterclass for the local community. However, the tour could not proceed because of the pandemic.
      - So, we took the experiment to the park, and since Tuesday.
      - In Scotland, TryTank is also helping the Church of Scotland and the Scottish Episcopal Church how to set up their own version of an online church.
      - As you can imagine, there were some technical challenges.
    - Why it matters:
      - Web3 Abbey is testing the boundaries of faith and technology.
      - It's a unique opportunity to see how church can be adapted in the digital age.
  - Why it matters:
    - The Learn Church Framework is a framework for innovation and encourage new styles of church.
    - Learning Forte's chief researcher released the report in May. The bottom line:
      - Learning Forte's chief researcher, bishops, local pastors, and a dozen local church leaders met for two days.
      - The feedback from the service was overwhelmingly positive. The team was encouraged by the enthusiasm of the participants.
      - The report is available to all leaders of church and faith communities.
      - It's available for leaders to learn from and try stuff out.
      - This research will help us identify patterns and seek new ways to innovate.
    - The bottom line:
      - We are learning to do this work.
      - As you can imagine, we are learning from and trying out new ideas.
      - What do we know now?
      - Are most of these leaders left-handed?
      - Are all these leaders born on a Tuesday?
      - Do all these leaders eat oatmeal in the morning?
      - What is the secret to parish growth?
      - What makes an effective parish leader?
      - What are the skills of a good confessor?
      - What are the skills of a good administrator?
      - What are the skills of a good pastor?
  - The Bottom Line:
